Nancy,

Everyone has always given the same line as an excuse but things are going to give. I've been sworn to secrecy, so I know that you're keeping it quiet, but I've been through it myself. You're like a rock star. Everyone knows who you are and is talking about you. Just remember that you're not alone and that you've got a lot of people behind you.

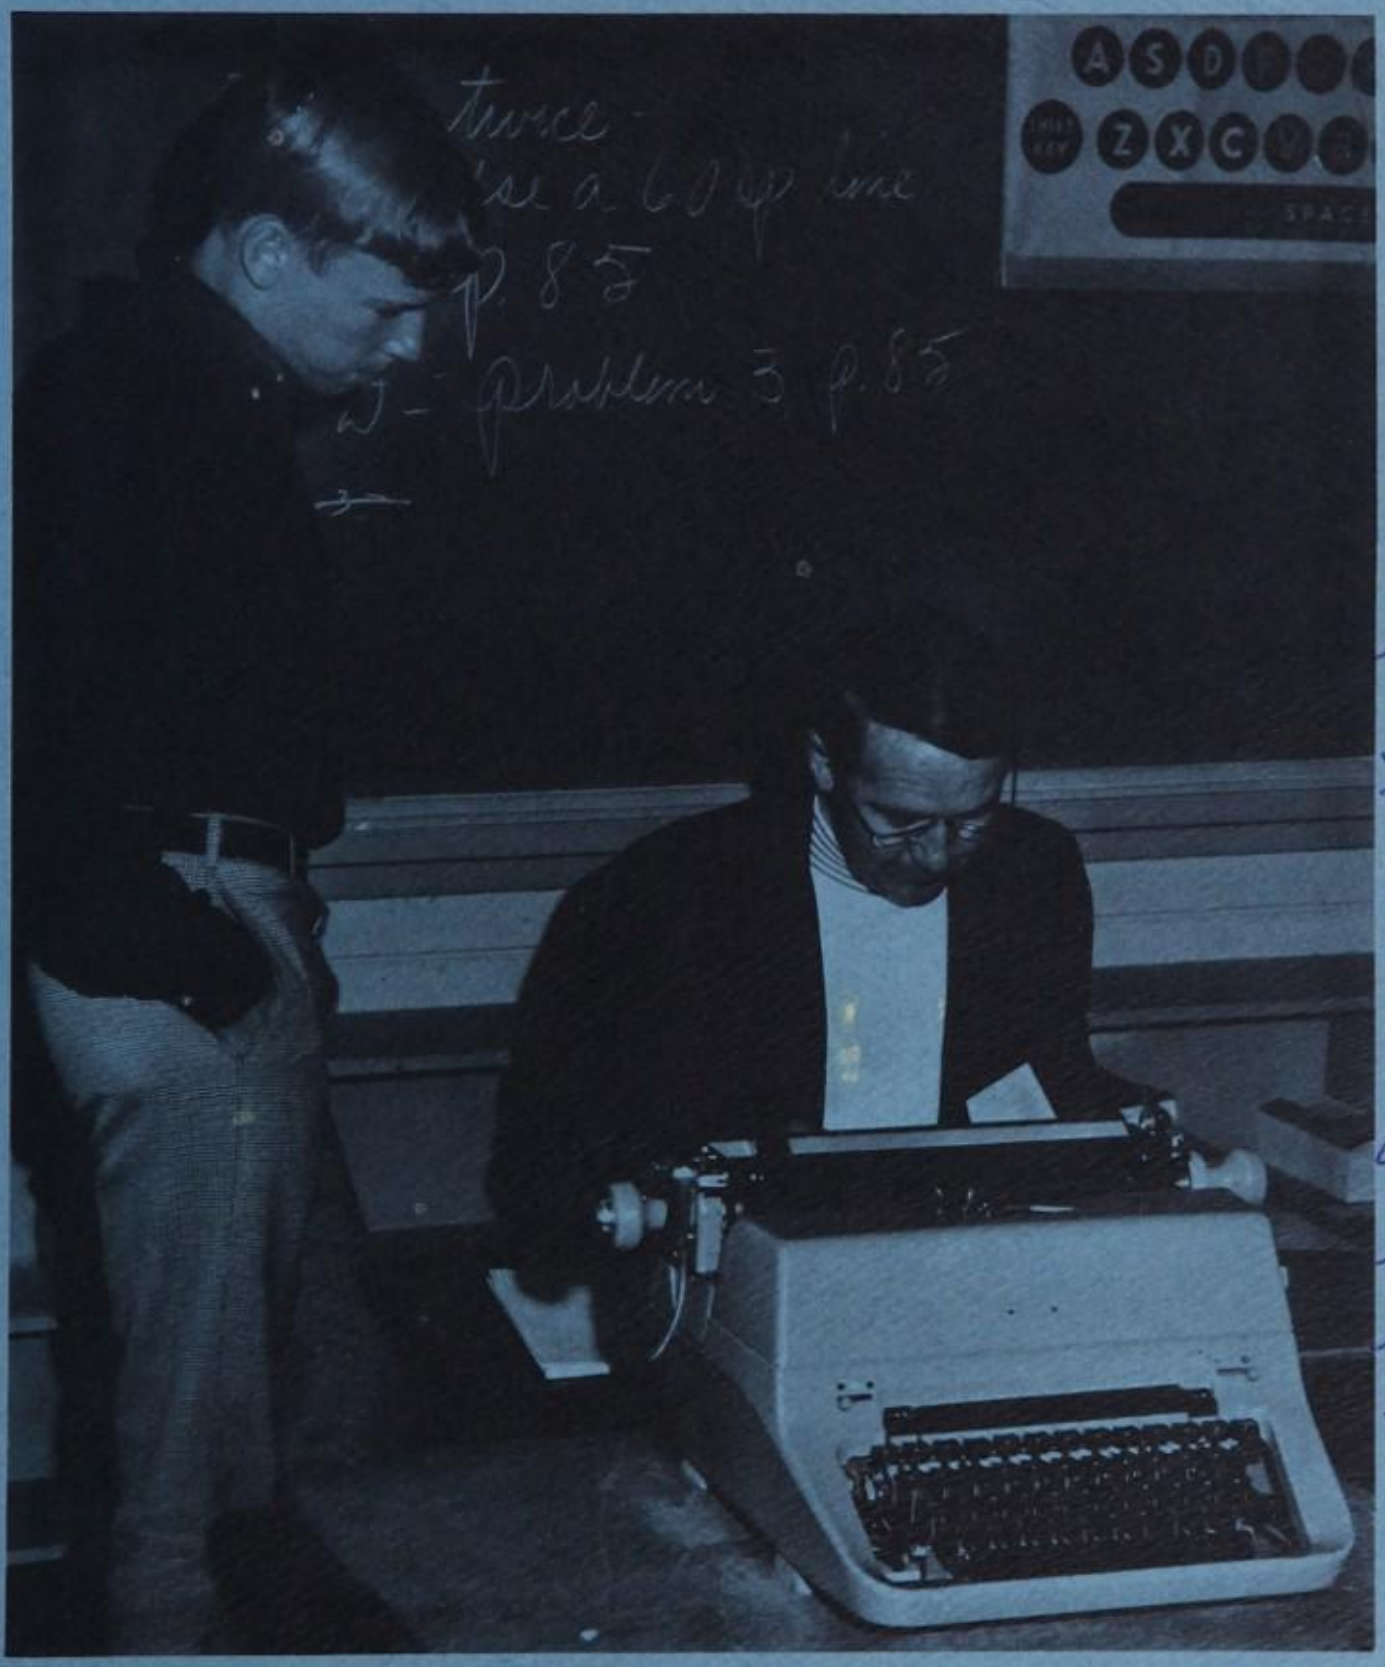
DEDICATION: Mr. William Gibble

Few people radiate with a warm-hearted appeal and a wonderful sense of humor, yet those who do possess these qualities should be noted as the outstanding people in our society. One such man is on the faculty of South Dade High School. Suave manners, impecable taste, and a genuine interest in his students are just a few of the many fine traits of this gentleman. His recognition is long overdue. With a warm heart and deep sincerity, we dedicate the 1968 Southernaire to Mr. William Gibble, teacher, friend, and genuine human being.



Nancy
You don't realize how lucky I feel to have known you through the past years. I shall always remember how you use to and still do "turn me on". Best of luck in the future. And I hope you achieve all of your goals in life. You were the big factor in making the class of '68 great.

Love ya
Matt

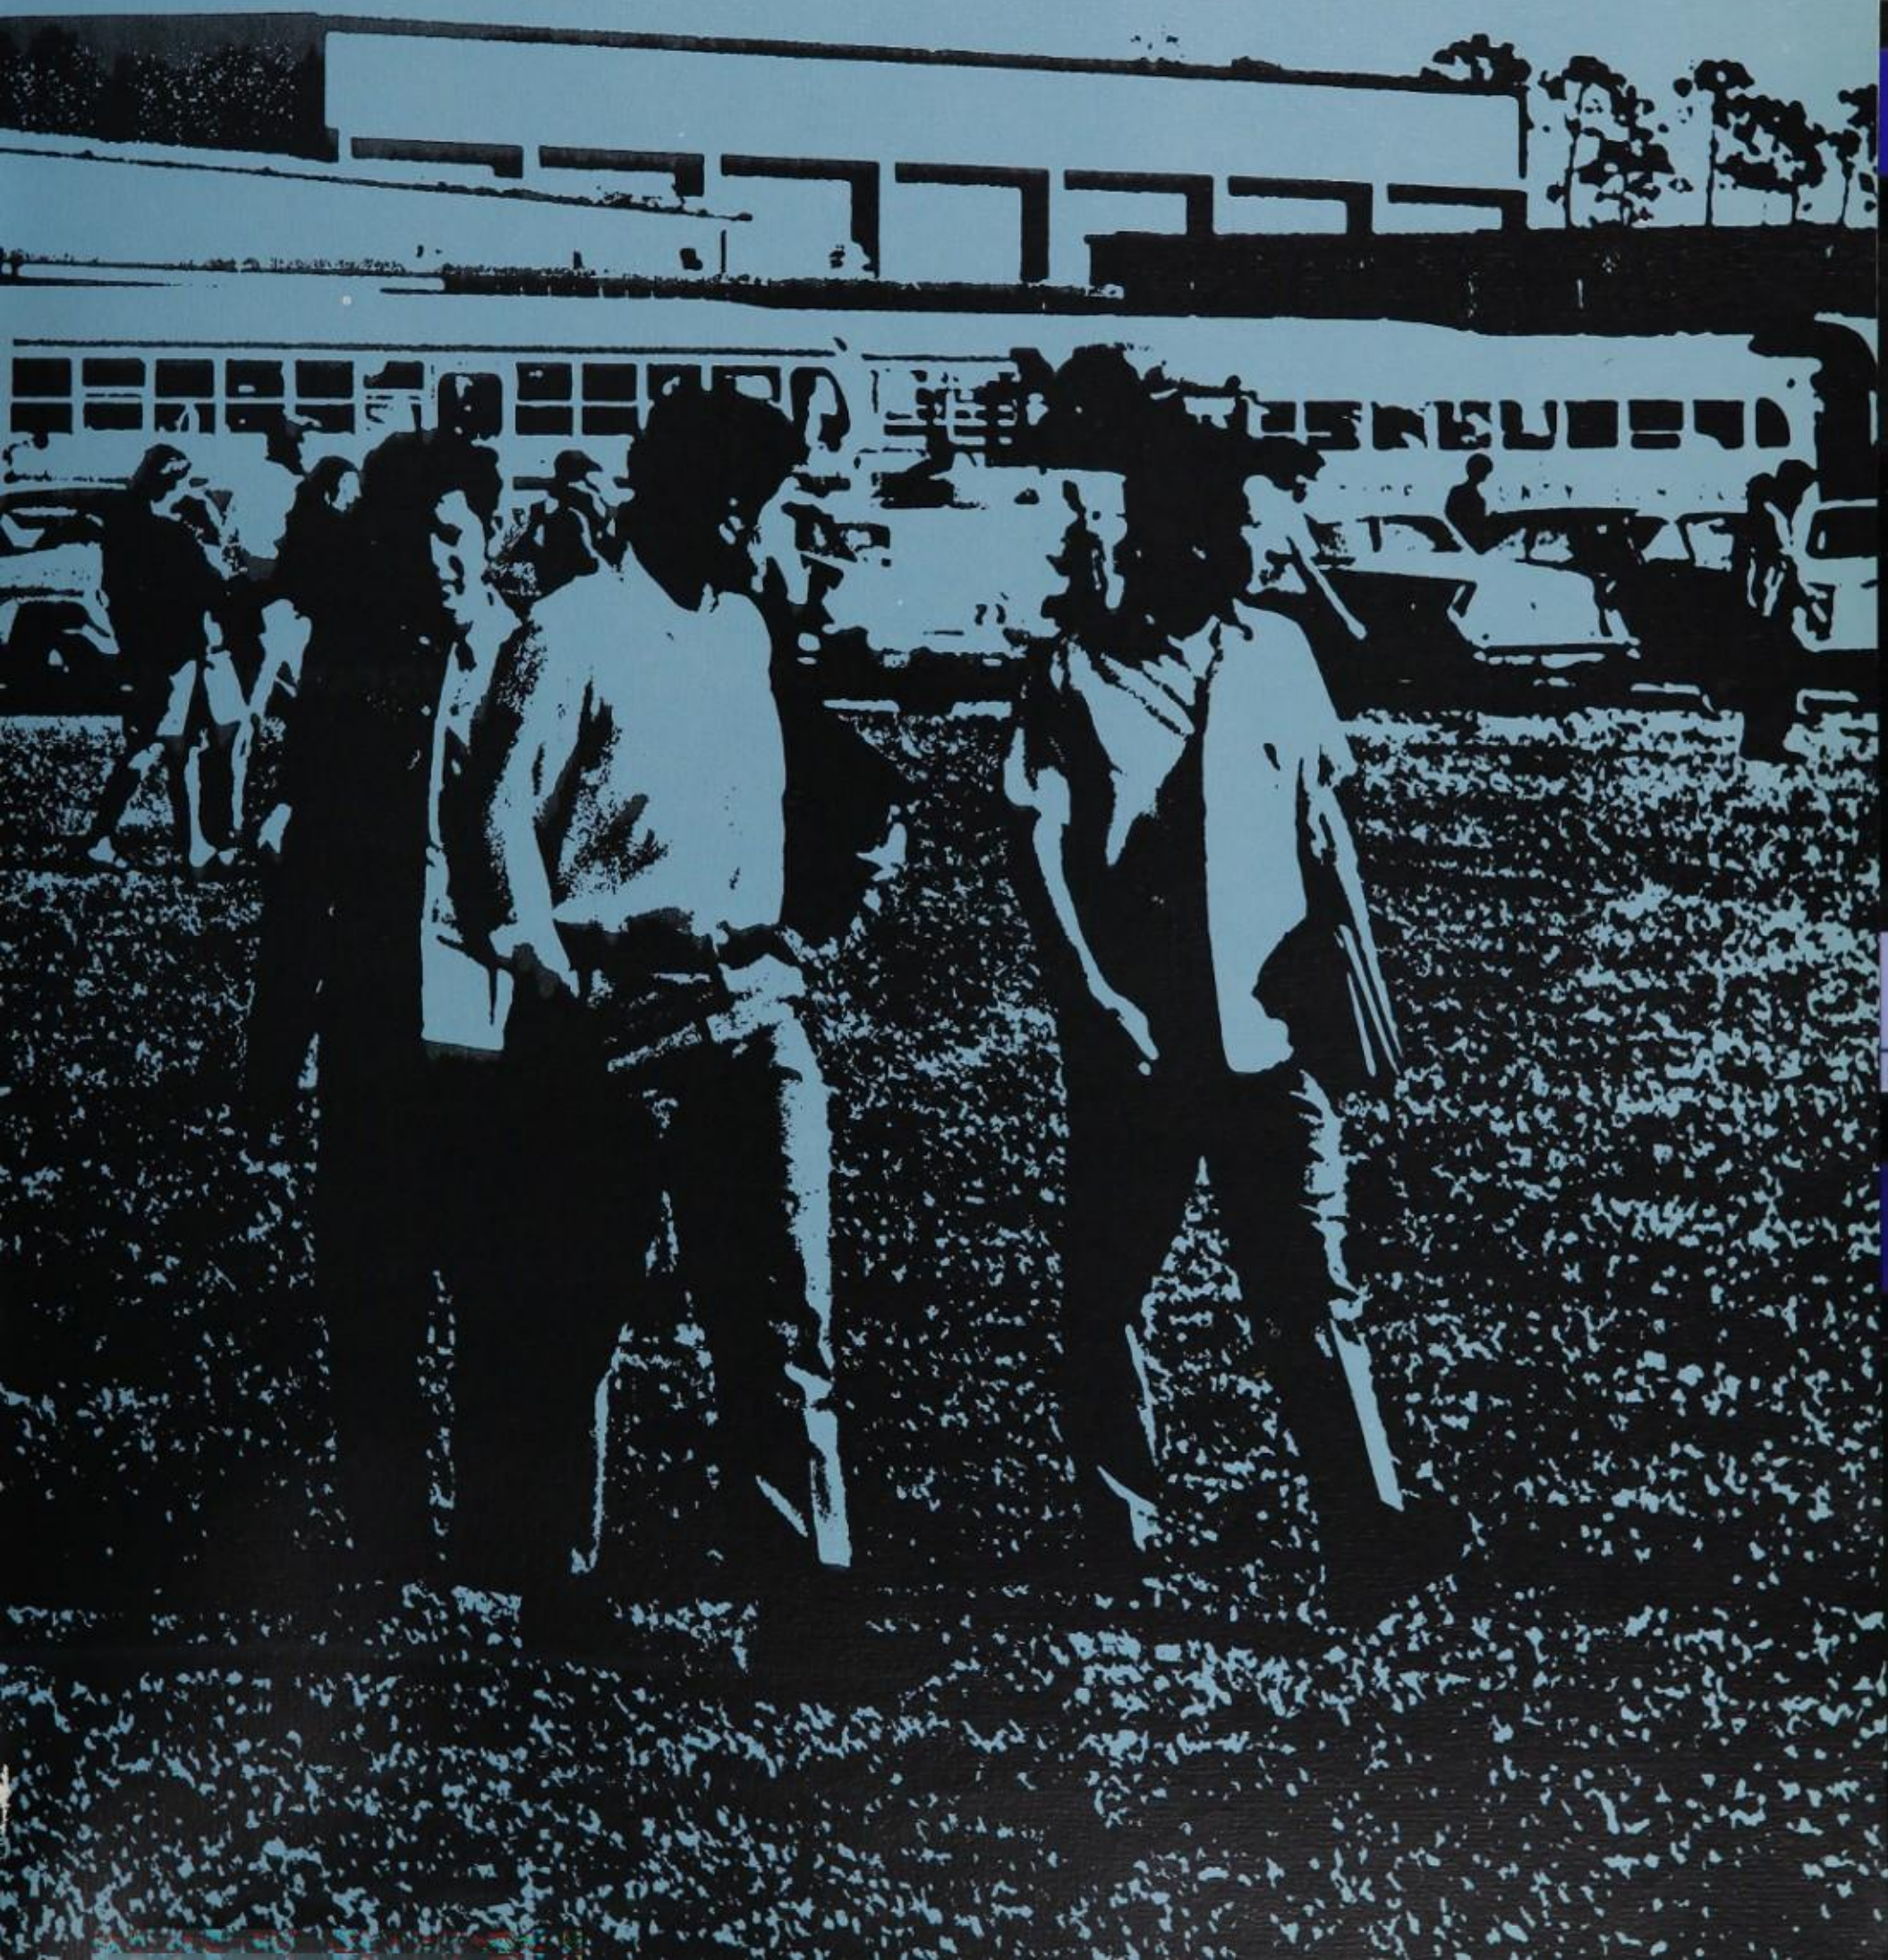
ACADEMIC LIFE



Administration

As you browse through this record of the 1967-68 activities at South Dade High School many pictures will remind you of the noise, dust, dirt, mud and confusion that characterized our building expansion. As the year passed and we moved into our new facilities the unpleasant aspects of the building program rapidly passed into oblivion as we began to enjoy the new.

So it is with life. Progress generates confusion, aggravation, inconveniences and sometimes even frustration. To those who survived these things the end product is a thing of beauty.

We, the Faculty and Staff of South Dade High School, pray that your experiences here have provided you with the foundations to walk through life's turmoil with head held high and a determination to do your part to build a better world by building a better you.

Language Arts-

A Road To Better Understanding

The Language Arts Department, English, Foreign languages, and Journalism, seeks to increase the students' ability in the four basic Communication skills—writing, speaking, reading, and listening. Our English Department consists of English, Honors English 11 and 12, Skills Lab, Contemporary Literature, and Accelerated Reading. Writing with logic and perception, vocabulary development, advanced composition techniques, critical thinking and creative writing are taught in Honors English. Accelerated reading is a course for students who want to develop creative thought and appreciation through improvement of reading skills. The Foreign Language Department offers courses in French, Latin, and Spanish. Students not only learn "Hola Isabel! Como estas?," but study tradition, customs, and history of the people. Journalism classes include working on the newspaper staff or on the annual staff.

Social Science: Key to the Past and the Future

The Social Science Department consists of World History, American History, United States Government and Economics, Economic Geography, and Psychology. In World History careful study is given to man's progress and the development of nations from the dawn of history to the present time. "Good morning, Juniors!" and American history comes to life under the direction of Mr. Alexander. It is important to study our country's government and economic system. Current affairs and world problems are often discussed in both classes. Economic Geography deals with the distribution of resources, major industries, trade, transportation, and other economic activities in various regions of the world. Through a systematic study of world behavior, Psychology is designed to help students better understand themselves and others.

Progress Thru Science

Science is the "word" for today's world. Studies in heart transplants and trips to the moon are topics of normal conversation. Students in South Dade's science department take courses in Biology, Physical Science, Chemistry, and Physics. Sophomores are required to take Biology and the other courses provide background for college bound students.

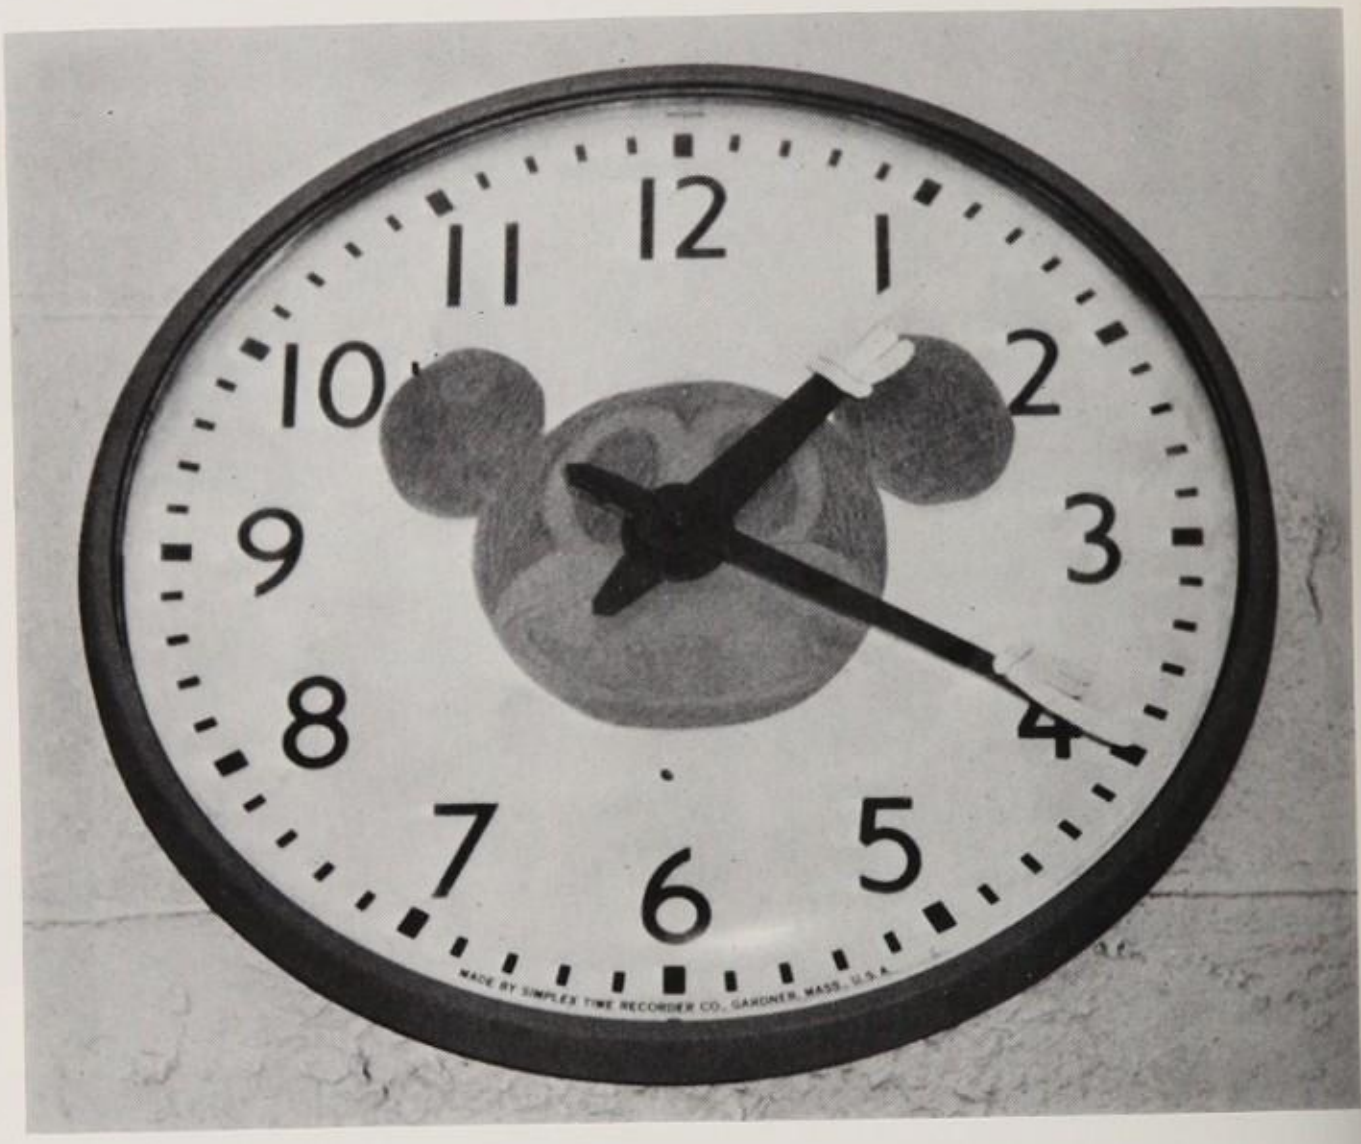
Math: 2 + 2 = 4 Will It Be Tomorrow?

The Mathematics department, headed by Mrs. Vihlen, offers many classes and opportunities. Basic Math and Beginning Algebra classes present the fundamental aspects of math. A student can then progress to the more abstract ideas of Advanced Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, and Math 5.

While students are struggling through the abstract ideas of mathematics, Mr. Anderson is telling his stories to help brighten the hour. Mr. Clark's announcement of another "opportunity day" brings horrible groans, while students fail quietly in the silence of Mrs. Vihlen's class.



One of the examples of Coach Anderson's humor.

Fine and Applied Arts - An Expression of Self and A Way of Living

The Applied Arts, shop, graphics, homemaking, and agriculture, prepare students for jobs in industry and business and provide opportunity for the application of learning in daily life. In the workshop,boys work with hand tools and power machinery to make projects designed to develop and teach skills and trades. The course rests strongly on creative and practical abilities. Activities in Graphics include mechanical and architectural drafting and learning to use the printing press. Girls in Homemaking acquire proficiency in cooking, sewing, homemaking, child care, and grooming. Home Economics II includes courses in textiles, clothing, and interior decorating. The Agriculture Department, base for the "bean pickers," offers supervised training in animal and crop enterprises, forestry, farm mechanics, and farm management.

The Fine Arts includes Band, Chorus, Art, and Drama and seek to develop natural talents and enrich the students' cultural aspect of life. Band and chorus strive to develop cooperative spirit both in group enthusiasm and music interpretation. The serious music student practices daily and strives to obtain perfection in tone quality, intonation, and rhythm. Art classes, under the direction of Mrs. Kitzman, explore the wonderful world of paintings, and architecture. They experiment with color, line, and texture and learn to appreciate the beauty of art expression. Students in drama carefully examine various plays and the development of many characters. Mr. Kross, dedicated to the Drama department, teaches the fundamentals of acting and the theater.

For the boys, volleyball is a participation sport while for the girls (opposite page), it is merely a spectator's sport.

Despite the fact that there were no locker rooms, no shower rooms, no windows in the gym or no room for normal activities, the Physical Education Department managed to keep active. After fifteen weeks of volleyball, most students felt prepared to try out for a professional team. On Fridays, the bowling bus, crammed with laughing girls, raced all other traffic down U.S. 1 in a frantic rush to get back to school before the tardy bell rang. The boys bowled occasionally, but preferred spending their time in the more strenuous games of badminton and baseball.

Guidance: A Helping Hand to the Future

The Guidance Department is one of the school's most valuable assets. Guidance is an art which these personnel have mastered. Not only do they strive to encourage and advise students, but they also work with schedules, test grades, and forms, and perform other important jobs. The goal of the department is to be of service to the student, providing guidance toward a successful life.

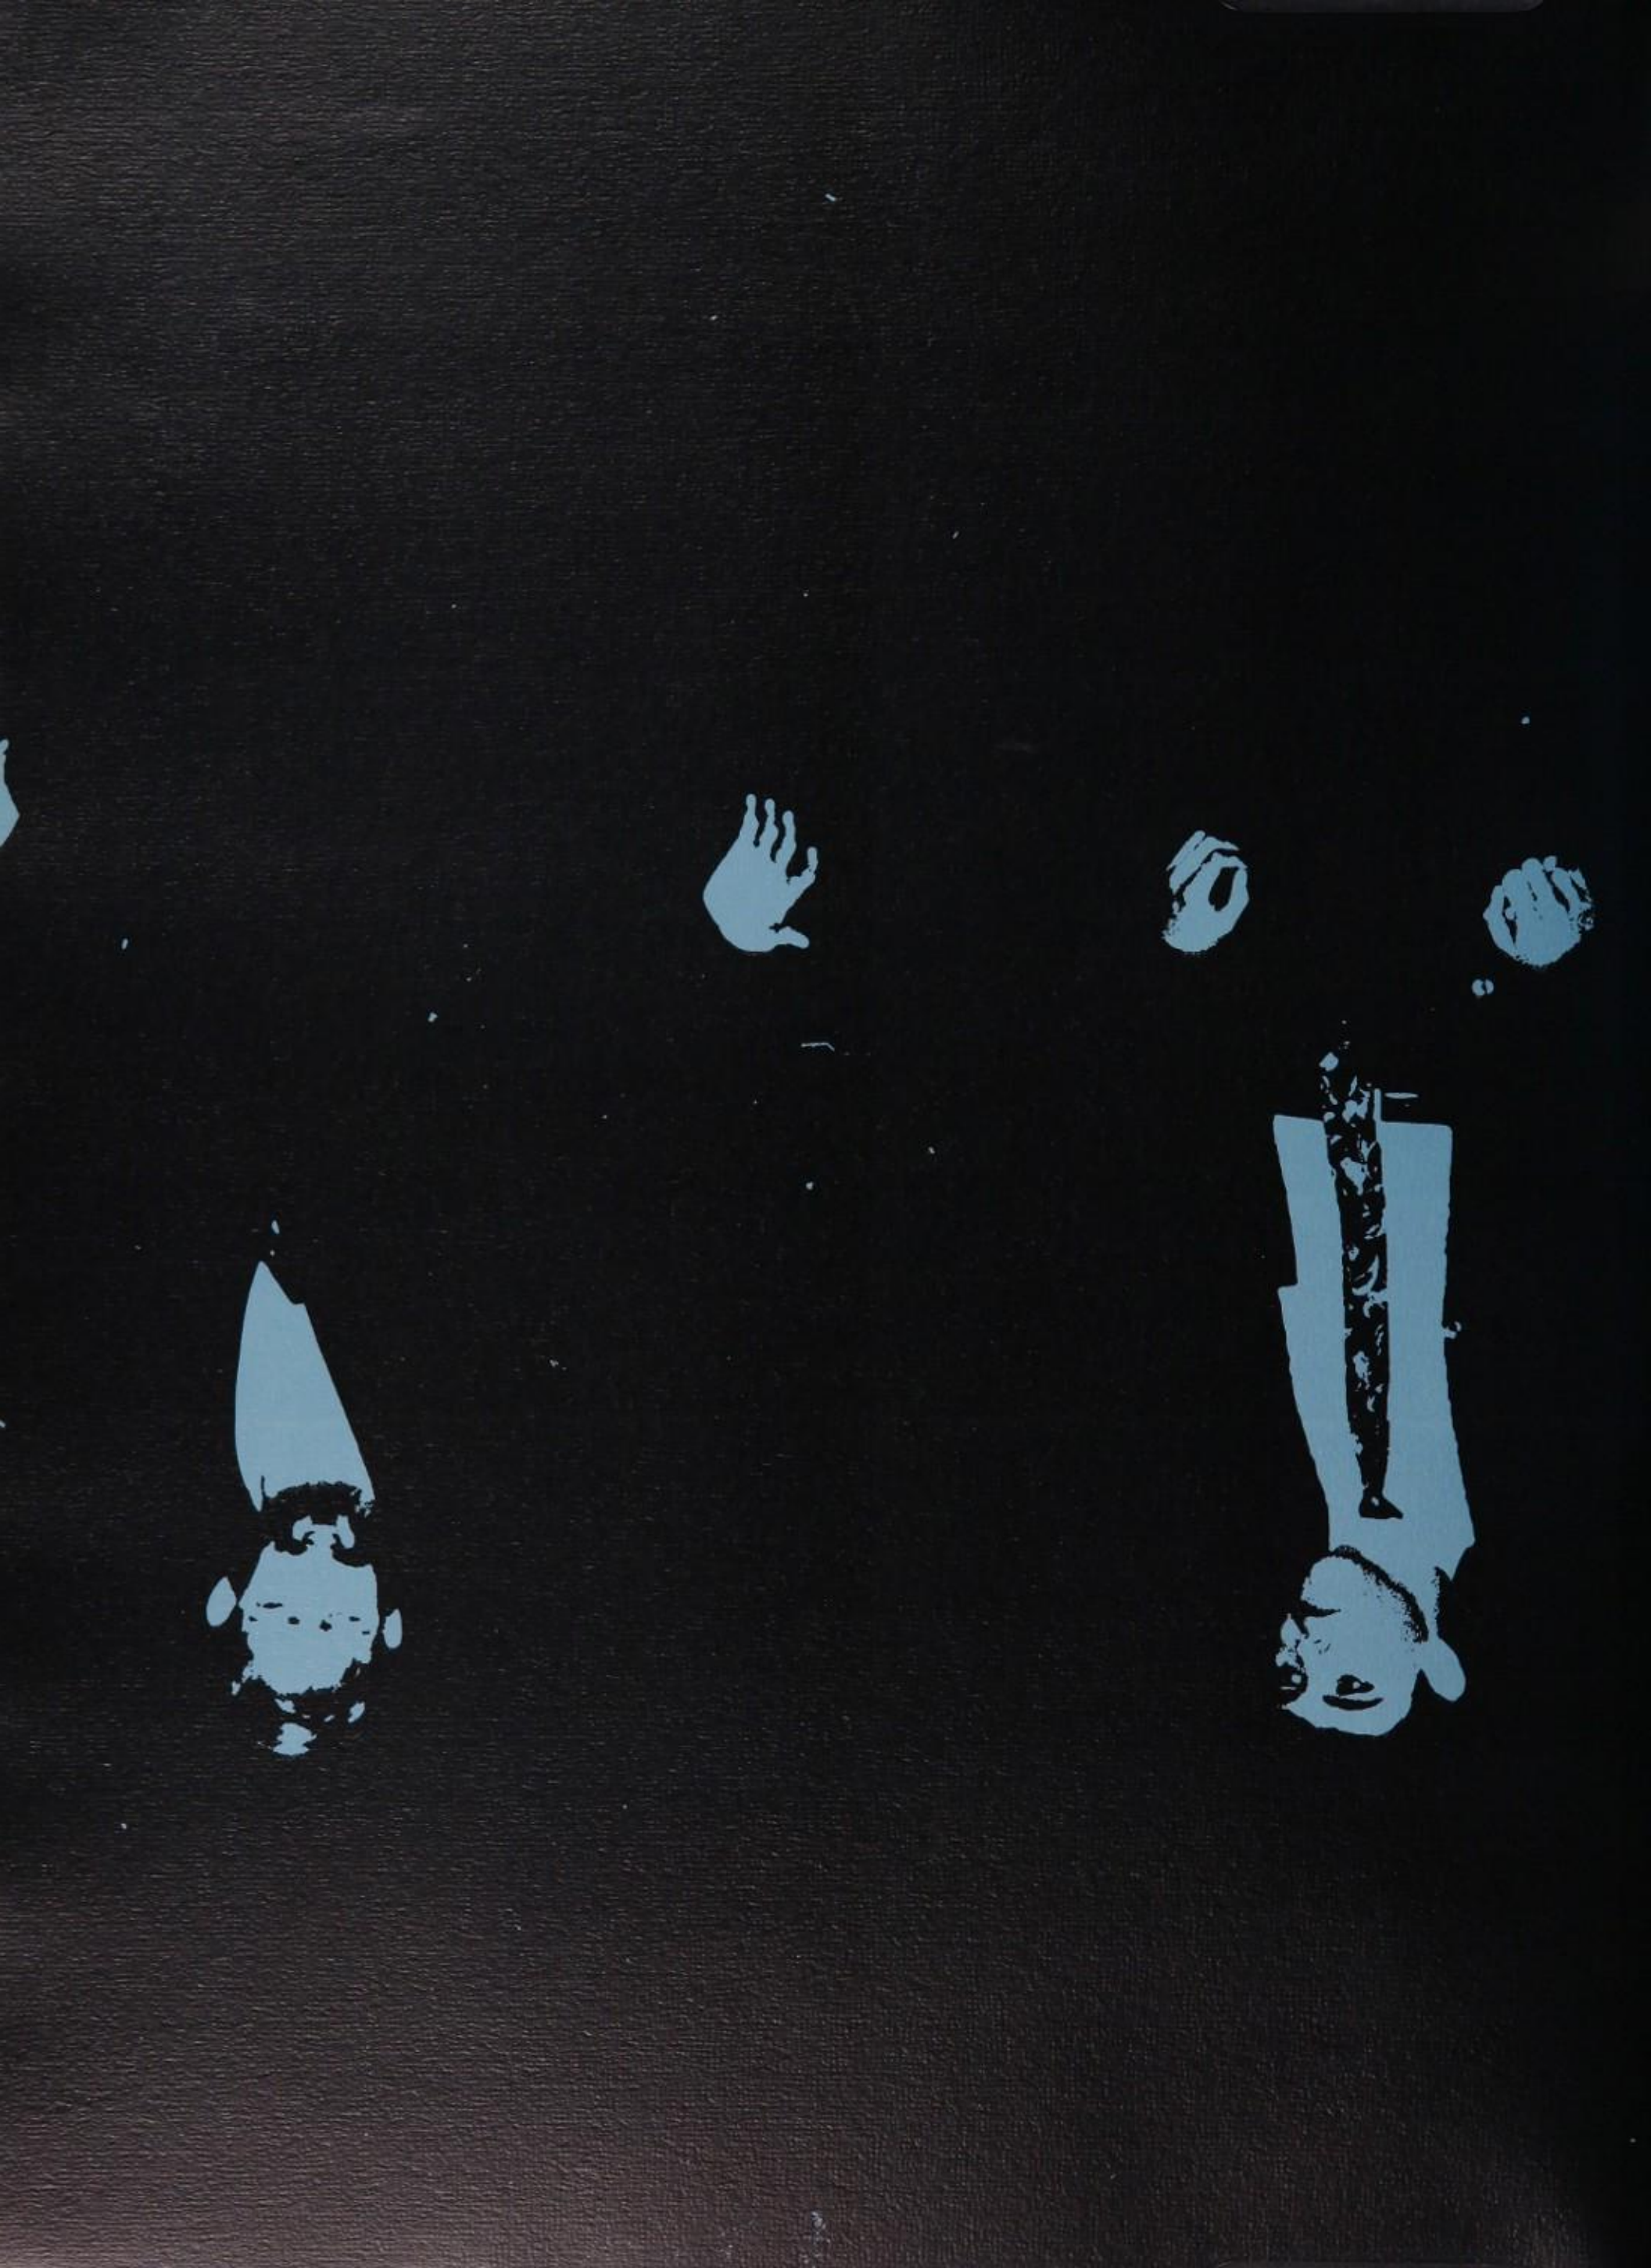
ORGANIZATIONS



National Honor Society

Students who maintain the academic average of 3.5 for three consecutive semesters are eligible for membership in the National Honor Society. Aside from scholastic excellence, the students' high school career must reflect evidence of Leadership, Character, and Service. Under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. Lou Huggins and Mrs. Julia DeMilly, the South Dade Chapter of The National Honor Society holds the distinction of being the oldest club at South Dade, having been established in 1953. The Society acts as school historian by collecting all issues of The Southernaire. One of the largest projects of this club is its tutorial service.

Student Council

The Student Council is the focal point from which all of our high school activities radiate. This organization assists the faculty and administration in their daily operation and in addition coordinates most extra-curricular activities. The Student Council enables the students to apply their qualities of leadership and service for the overall betterment of South Dade High School. Representatives are given an opportunity to explore the rewarding area of student government and very often contribute to the establishment of school tradition and reputation.

This year the events sponsored by the Student Council were most memorable and rewarding. A successful Sophomore Orientation program started the year off right and paved the way for successful projects such as bookcovers, Identification Cards, and Student Directories. The Student Christmas Party, complete with a live band and refreshments, was a first for the 1967-68 Student Council. The Student Council established the milestone of a financially and socially successful Mid-Term Ball.

Spaghetti suppers, car washes, Christmas tree sales and soda-pop bottle collections—these are all part of South Dade's band. Of course, between all these money-making projects which finance a trip to Washington D.C. for the Cherry Blossom Festival, the band finds time to give exciting pre-game and half-time shows at each football game, play for concerts, rate a superior at Contest and march in the Pro-Bowl Game.

Band members put in much time under the dedicated direction of Mr. Fetterman and many Thursday evenings are spent marching under the leadership of Mary Hickson, drum majorette.

Under the leadership of Miss Patty Bowden, the majorettes accompany the band to marching contests, parades and special events. Future Secretaries of America

The Future Secretaries of America offers a development of responsibility, cooperativeness, and business citizenship to all members. Through this club, an interest in secretarial work is projected to all students. Some of the activities undertaken were a Christmas party for migrant children, the making of Christmas baskets, and a dance. Many guest speakers, invited to the school by F.S.A., relate from their experiences the nature of their work in the varied business occupations. All members view the complicated tasks of the business world and in this way prepare themselves for future careers. With this goal in mind, their work is geared to the accomplishment of perfection and accuracy.

Future Teachers of America

The strength and well-being of a nation depends greatly upon its educational system. The Future Teachers of America, as chartered through the Florida and National Educational Association, has attempted to increase the interest of students in secondary and elementary school teaching. They are learning the fundamentals of teaching today to become the efficient teacher of tomorrow.

The South Dade Chapter of F.T.A., sponsored by Mrs. Grace Wolfenbarger, is open to those students interested in the teaching profession. The purpose of the club is to gain a better understanding of the functions and duties of a teacher. Some of the activities of this organization are bake sales, a Teacher's Tea, football magazine sales, the State Convention in Clearwater, Student Teacher Day, and teaching at local elementary schools.

Playmakers

Playmakers consist of all drama students who wish to study the many aspects of the theater. Under the direction of Mr. David Kross, the dramatic arts have become interesting and exciting to all students at South Dade. The history of the theater from Ancient Greece to Modern America as well as the works of various playwrights are studied in the course. Students not only receive training an acting and directing but are also exposed to the technical fields of scenery, costuming, make-up, and lighting. A dramatic production at South Dade requires careful detailed planning by the director, dependability on behalf of the entire cast and stage managers, and an overall willingness to spend numerous hours at rehearsal. Students learn to work with other people in striving for an outstanding dramatic production.

The Drama Department and the Thespians presented one of the most memorable of assembly programs before the student body.

Spanish Club

The study of the Spanish Language is only the first step in the fulfillment of the objectives of the South Dade Spanish Club. This club promotes an awareness of our southern neighbors and endeavors to develop an insight into the cultural aspects of peoples of Spanish-speaking nations. Every student who is genuinely interested in the people of a different culture, heritage, and language is encouraged to become a member of this organization. Hard work and imagination were evident in the Spanish Club's Homecoming float, which placed third in the school competition.

This is the only club which has a special reserved cheering section at all football games.

Many of the exciting events of the school year were sponsored by the Pep Club. The annual motorcade to Harris Field on Thanksgiving morning and the array of colorful balloons added to the enthusiastic spirit as the Rebels recorded a victory over the Palmetto Panthers. Victory dances and artistic goal-post signs added greatly to South Dade's successful football season. The spirit of Homecoming Week was highlighted by the Pep-Club-sponsored Homecoming Dance.

Under the leadership of Mr. James Alexander, the Pep Club managed to encourage school spirit and sportsmanship throughout the student body.

In order to obtain membership in this elite club, one must have participated and excelled in either varsity football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, swimming, bowling, or golf, and must have the approval of Coach Leo Martin, sponsor of the club. Since athletic letters are awarded only for superior achievement, membership in the Letterman's Club is an honor. The club has helped unite the active participants of each varsity sport into one organization with one definite purpose . . . that of improving the school through sportsmanship. Each member learns to perfect himself as an athlete as well as to exemplify the qualities of fine sportsmanship and fair play for the entire student body. He learns to cooperate with team members and to become a more valuable part of the athletic program as well as the student body. Southernaire Staff

The yearbook staff is composed of South Dade students who have shown a strong interest and talent in some phase of Journalism. These staff members are screened from a large number of applicants each year and are chosen for their talents and their interests. Most of the year is spent in meeting deadlines for the final delivery on Class Night of The Southernaire. This represents the largest, most involved single undertaking of any group of students at South Dade.

Laurie Love, Bob Lynn—Co-Editors

In addition to publishing The Southernaire, this same staff produces in conjunction with Quill and Scroll members the school literary magazine, Potpourri.

Staff members spend at least one period a day working toward the completion of the book, but a great many more hours are spent after school in selling ads, taking pictures, writing copy, arranging copy for mailing, proof reading, composing pages, arranging picture appointments, selling annuals, delivering annuals, and selling plastic covers.

The Editors are responsible for seeing that all the myriad cogs of production work to meet a deadline.
The Business Manager is responsible for sales, ads and a very inflexible budget. The Advertising Manager, through sales of ads, is able to see that the South Dade student gets a book that costs a great deal more to produce than he pays.

Those students around the halls of South Dade who always seem to be in a hurry, who always are busy,who climb around the buildings taking pictures, and who hound students, faculty, and administration for added information, are generally Southernaire staff members. They're apt to have dark circles under their eyes, or mis-matched socks, hands smeared with carbon and a hungry look because they missed lunch.

The South Dade Rebels began the 1967 Football season with a victory over the North Miami Pioneers, 14-13. The Rebels were impressive in their first outing by gaining over 300 yards by passing and running. The highlight of the game was the 78 yard touchdown by Quarterback Randy McMichael.

The second game of the season brought the Rebels their only defeat of the 1967 grid campaign as the Coral Park Rams edged by South Dade, 12-7. For the Rebels, all was in the name of revenge, but South Dade's earnest effort proved fruitless and the Rams recorded their third straight victory over the Rebs.

Standing one and one for the season, the Rebels met the Columbus Explorers at Central Stadium. Coming from behind a 13 point deficit at the half, the Rebels battled to settle for a 13-13 tie with the Explorers.

An estimated 3,000 fans witnessed the Rebel's home opener as Quarterback Randy McMichael scored three South Dade touchdowns to lead the Rebels to their second victory of the season by defeating the Curley Knights, 27-7.

The Miami Springs Hawks were the Rebel's next victims as the South Dade offensive unit took to the air to score on a spectacular 30 yard touchdown pass from McMichael to End John Mervine. Scisco and McMichael also scored for the Rebels to secure the victory.

An accurate offense and a savage defense proved to be the winning combination for South Dade as the Rebels defeated the MacArthur Mustangs, 27-6, in Hollywood. The victory was a milestone for the Rebels who ousted the tenth ranked Mustangs from the unbeaten ranks. South Dade raised its record to 4-1-1 with the victory.

South Dade's winning streak was halted by neighboring Killian when the two teams settled for a 13-13 tie. Quarterback Randy McMichael scored both times for the Rebels and quickly moved ahead of the Cougars, but the Killian offense recovered the 13 point deficit through second half play. The game moved the Rebels to a record of five wins, one loss, and two ties.

Fullback Mike Scisco scored four times to lead South Dade to a 26-6 Homecoming Victory over the Key West Conchs. The 155-pound senior Fullback scored on runs of 8, 28, 27, and 21 yards to highlight South Dade's Homecoming Week festivities.

Rebel Football was truly a time of excitement and spirit. The Fall campaign saw the Rebels defeat North Miami, Curley, Miami Springs, MacArthur, Miami Beach, Key West and Palmetto. There was also a short time of sadness as the Rebels lost to Coral Park and tied Columbus and Killian. Both joy and sadness make the spirit and excitement of the football season an important part of school life and a wonderful time to remember.

Junior Varsity Basketball

The Junior Varsity Basketball program provides organized sports for sophomore athletes. Under the direction of Coach Chester Fields, these boys gained much needed experience and showed great potential toward making next year's varsity squad. J.V. Basketball games were held just before the regular varsity games and frequently drew a large crowd. Such outstanding Sophomore cagers as Donnie Kimball and Ken Krupa were moved up to the Varsity squad toward the end of the season.

Individual and team efforts allow the South Dade Track Team to win, place, and show in stiff competition. This year, the team had the depth, speed, skill, and experience to make an excellent showing in each meet in which they participated. The Rebels had the aid of returning lettermen and "up and coming" new members. Although track events are classified as individual sports, our team displayed a unity and good sportsmanship which is unduplicated. Team and individual effort, second wind, and that little bit of something extra enabled the Rebels to "show" their "place" and "WIN."

BASEBALL

South Dade's Baseball team did not see much action early in the season. Practice began early in February but was haulted during the educational crisis. The team was composed of fifteen outstanding players who strove to work together displaying ability, coordination, and sportsmanship. They competed in sixteen games with other high schools in Dade County.

With six returning lettermen, the team showed great potential under the guidance of Coaches Don Curtright and Tom Pepsin.

GOLF TEAM

One of South Dade's winter season sports is the hard driving game of golf. The boys on this team, under the coaching of Mr. Schneider, spend many hours practicing and perfecting the techniques of golf. The team started the season off right by beating Coral Gables, last year's Gold Coast Champions. They had an almost perfect season, losing only one match to Palmetto. The 1967-68 golf team was the best in the history of South Dade High School and was one of the leading contendors for the state championship.

BOWLING TEAM

Strike one! Strike two! Strike three! You're not out. This isn't baseball. It's Bowling. The Bowling Team, one of the best in South Dade's history, recorded an unblemished record for the 1968 season. Under the dedicated sponsorship of Mr. Chipley, the team came out victorious with top-ranking scores in all meets. The team helped to further South Dade's reputation through their teamwork, spirit, and sportsmanship.

TENNIS

South Dade's Tennis Team is on the move. Both Girl's and Boy's teams recorded the most successful season in South Dade's history. Under the leadership of Coach Bob Goodman, these students proved themselves true Rebels.

Students relax after another victory.

The life of every Rebel was effected by the fine athletic program at South Dade. The 1967-68 school year was full of athletic victories and defeats but each student learned the importance of loyalty, school spirit, and sportsmanship. In short, it was a time to grow both mentally and physically.

HOMECOMING 1967

Into each life some rain must fall.

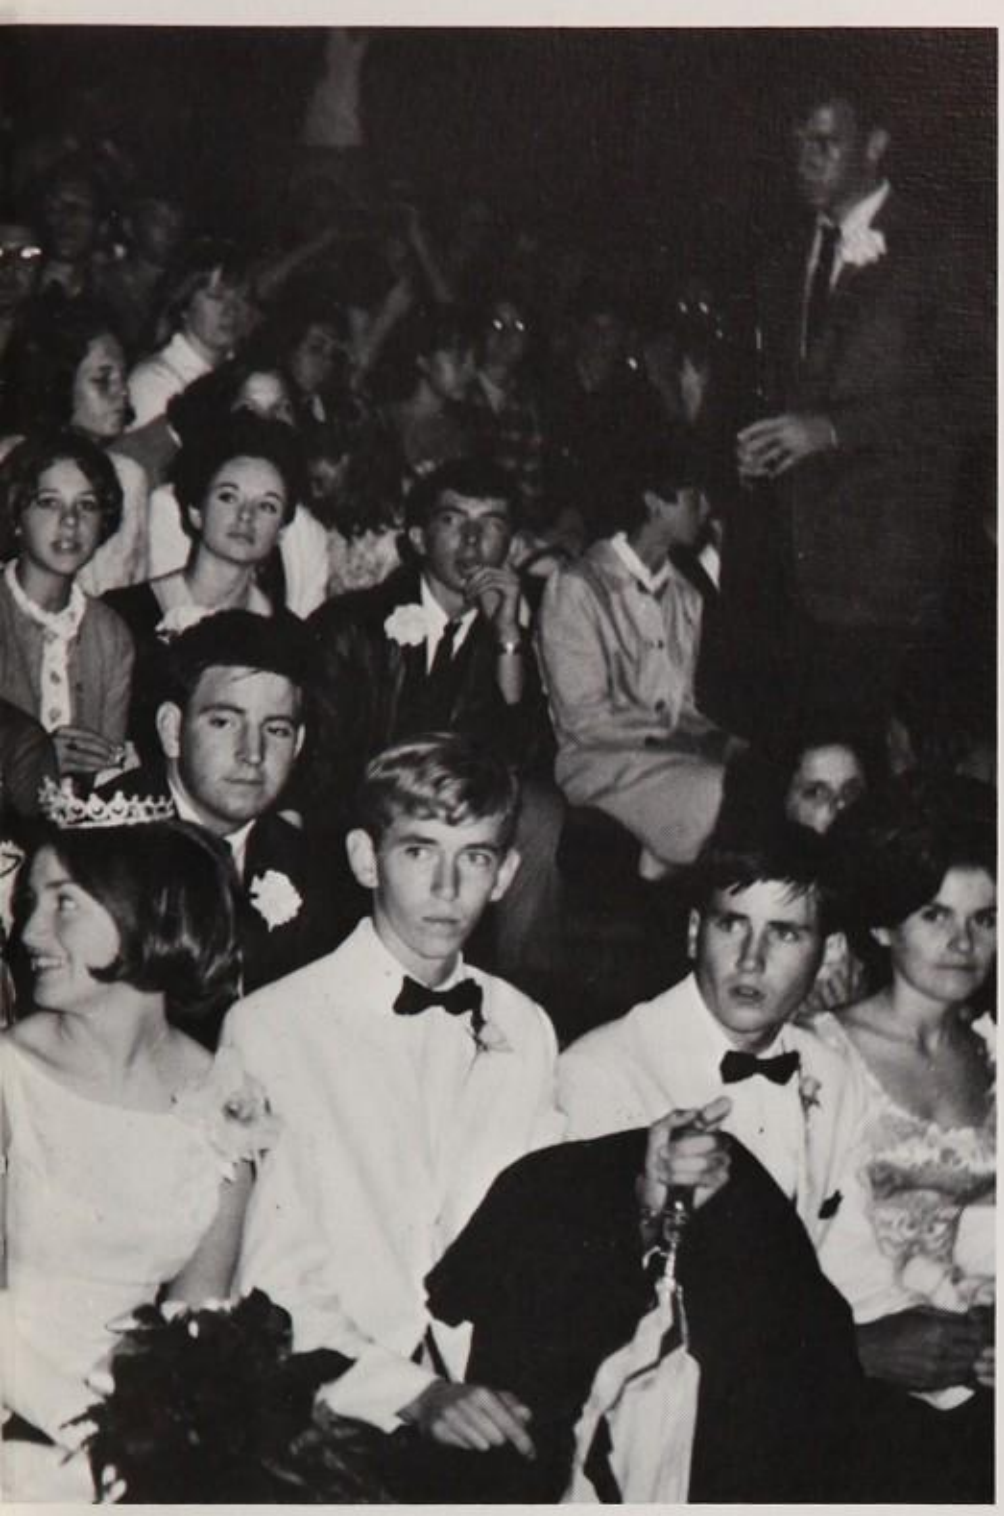
Groans of dismay came from the stands as the rain pelted down. While the band members formed a line down the field, looks of disbelief passed among them as mud oozed into their shoes. But the band marched on . .

The whistle blew and the Mighty Rebels engaged in a valient battle against Key West. In spite of soaked jerseys, muddy spikes and scarred turf the game went on, right on to a victory over the Conchs, 27 - 6.

Then it was halftime and the rain stopped. The umbrellas were momentarily tucked away and the wet but lovely court emerged, spirits undampened. With radiant faces they made the traditional procession across the soggy field, and the court smiled on . . .

Once again umbrellas became the order of the evening as South Dade's Homecoming Queen, vivacious Joan Szymanski, along with forty other couples attended the "Southern Ball" given in the Queen's honor. The excitement of winning the game, the crowded floor, and the raucous music all whirled together to form an unforgettable evening, and the dance went on . . .

Into each life some rain must fall, and that it did.



The excited crowd watches the victory over Key West.

WHAT A DAY!

Biggest break through in seven years.

A panorama of color, people, excitement, and spirit moved to the traditional battleground. Spreading through the stands was a contagious air of suspense. Each Rebel knew that THAT morning seven years of disappointment would come to an end. Confident Palmetto fans seemed to lose all spirit and all hopes of winning as our boys gained more and more yardage. What a Day! That wonderful, sunny, hot day when crowd, coaches, and team joined together to create the greatest event of the year. Balloons filled the air to announce our victory 21 to 7 over the Panthers.

WHAT A DAY!

The Powder Puff game ended the football season, but it started the players on a new career. The week of practice preceeding the game produced many backaches, sore muscles, broken watch crystals and fingernails. The dedicated coaches spent hours off the field "borrowing" plays and keeping their own plays secret, but the week went on, and the final test gave the Blue Team a victory of 12-0.

The Fantasticks

"Without A Hurt the Heart is Hollow"

The stage became alive with energetic song and dance as the National Thespian Chapter of South Dade High School presented the award-winning International musical, The Fantasticks. Under the joint direction of Mr. Alan Fetterman and Mr. David Kross, an unusally small cast of eight people recreated the longest running off-Broadway musical. The role of the Narrator was played by Bill Pratt, Sheldon Lee and Bob Lynn played the fathers of David Magee and Susan Thompson. Libby Cool created the role of the Wall, as Jim Bernecker and Bob Thomas completed the cast as two hilarious actors. Long rehearsal hours, set construction, make-up, costumes and music rehearsals added to the tremendous number of accumulated hours of dedicated preparation for the finest production in South Dade's history.

"Mortimer, die for the man."

"Look, there is the wall their fathers built."

"Please, no fighting! I come like Cassandra with a fig leaf in my hand."

ACT ONE (In The Moonlight)

Following the "Overture," the Narrator sets the mood of the story with the wistful "Try to Remember." He then introduces the main characters: "A boy, a girl, two fathers, and a wall." The girl, Luisa, expresses her yearning for the adventurous life in the propulsive "Much More," which leads into the ardent duet "Metaphor," sung with the boy, Matt, across the wall that separates them. The young lovers are purposely kept apart by their fathers—not because they are enemies but because they feel that parental disapproval is the surest way to have their two children fall in love ("Never Say No"). Since their mission is accomplished, they further plan to end their supposed feud by having a bandit, El Gallo (the Narrator in disguise), stage an attempted rape ("It Depends on What You Pay") which will be heriocally foiled by the boy. Thus, by moonlight, El Gallo and two actors, Henry and Mortimer, surprise the lovers after their appealing, prophetic duet, "Soon It's Gonna Rain," and carry out the rampageous "Rape Ballet." Once Matt triumphantly vanquishes the foe, the fathers and their children are blissfully united ("Happy Ending").

ACT TWO (In The Sunlight)

We find the romance bathed in sunlight is short-lived ("This Plum Is Too Ripe"). Upon learning that they have been duped by their fathers, the lovers quarrel. Matt is determined to see the world ("I Can See It"), despite the Narrator's more sobering comments, and Henry and Mortimer re-appear to offer to be his guides. With their plan gone awry, the fathers put up the wall again and sing philosophically about the unpredictability of children ("Plant a Radish"). Luisa, still pining for adventure, is offered a vision by El Gallo ("Round and Round"), but her dream never materializes. Matt, disheveled and disillusioned, returns to find that Luisa has been hurt also. Although they have been hurt, they have grown up and rediscovered their love for one another. ("They Were You"). Autumn is over. Winter has come bringing snow—wisdom. Or as the Narrator reprises, "Without a hurt the heart is hollow."

"Romantic drama? That, sir, is my speciality!"

"I always knew there would be a happy ending."

"Sir, The players have arrived."

"Of course! You are El Gallo."

DONA SWANSON

The honor is reserved for a very few. Being chosen as Mr. and Miss Southernaire is an honor which befalls only two members of the graduating class. These students have contributed a great deal to South Dade High School but have received little recognition for their devoted service. They are marked as superior achievers through the quality rather than the quantity of their efforts. Their own sense of good judgement is shown through their relationship with others and their ability to get along with their fellow students. Their personal attitudes reveal an unselfish career of service for South Dade.

Two such people stand apart as the deserving recipients of Mr. and Miss Southernaire. With eternal gratitude, we the staff of the 1968 Southernaire, confer the honor of Mr. and Miss Southernaire to you, Bob Thomas and Dona Swanson.

In Omnia Paratus . . . . in all things prepared. The honor of being cited as a "Campus Leader" is earned rather than awarded. No prejudicial treatment is given to any individual for his record of service to South Dade High School must by thoroughly evident through his list of Senior Achievements. An established point system is used annually to determine "Campus Leaders" with each possible honor or activity having a certain point value. Only those students with the highest number of service points are honored by the title of "Campus Leader." In every case, a genuine interest in South Dade is reflected through these student's wide interest in school activities. The unselfish use of their abilities for the betterment of South Dade makes them the worthy "Campus Leaders." These students are the true South Dade Rebels . . . in all things prepared.

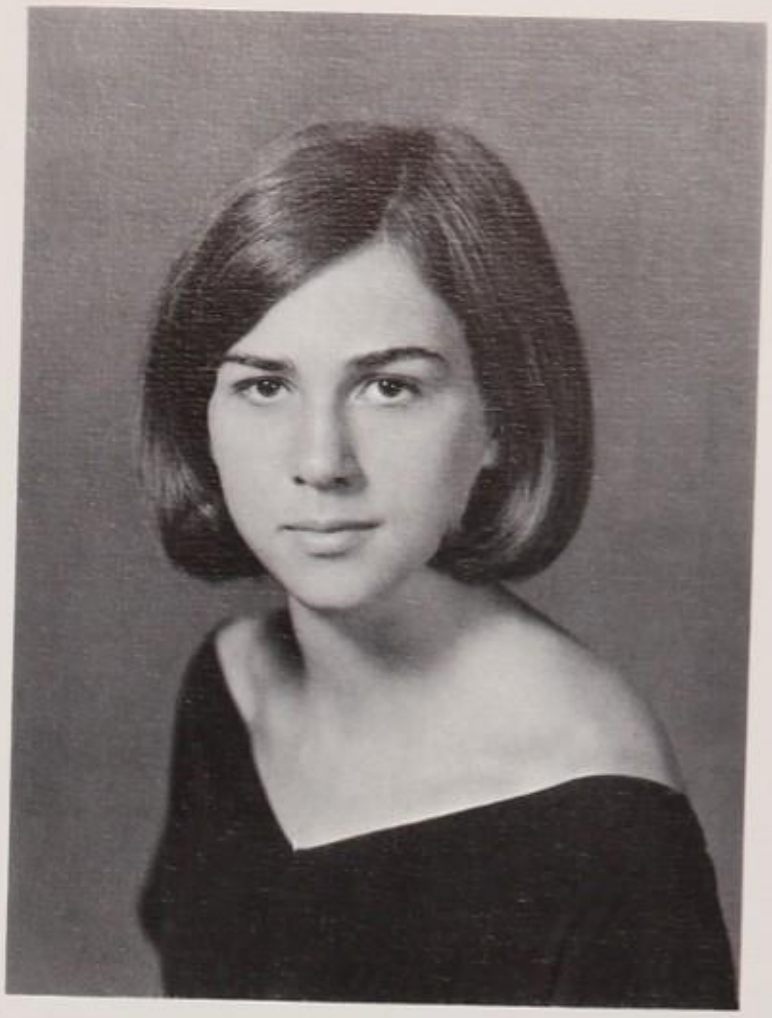
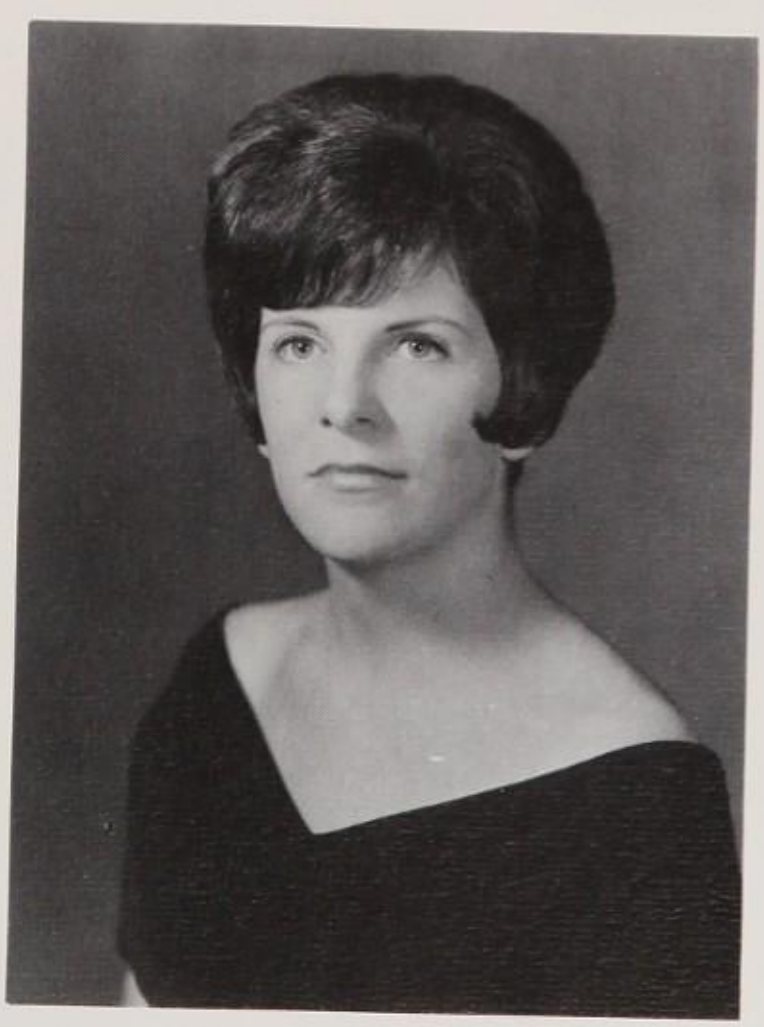
South Dade High School
SILVER KNIGHT NOMINEES

The purpose of the Silver Knight Award program is to recognize the service of outstanding Seniors in Dade County High Schools so they may realize their leadership responsibilities to themselves and to their community. The essential qualification for a Silver Knight Nominee is SERVICE. The Silver Knight Award in each of fourteen categories is given to the individual whose record of service best exemplifies the unselfish use of his abilities to help others. General measurements to determine an individual's qualifications are applied according to Achievement, Leadership, and Character. High Scholarship is important, but it is not enough. Leadership through wide interest and membership in school and community organizations is important, but it is not enough. Achievement through scholastic honors, awards and citations supports the individual's claim to recognition, but it is not enough. An unparalleled record in SERVICE is the essence.



MARY HICKSON—Music
The candidate has displayed outstanding achievement in vocal or instrumental music, but exceptional talent is not necessarily the determining qualification. She has been the inspiring force in a musical group and leader in related projects. The talented person who is a symbol of service in music merits recognition.

BOB LYNN—Journalism
The candidate has displayed outstanding achievement in writing for school publications, or demonstrating exceptional skill in directing the production of yearbooks, newspapers and magazines. Imagination and leadership have played a large role in the development and success of related projects.



DEBBIE CALLAHAN—Citizenship
The candidate has displayed outstanding achievement in many academic fields and she has shown an over-all willingness to accept and the ability to carry out assignments in school and community activities. A long list of offices held is secondary to respected leadership, civic consciousness, dependability, and a spirit of service.

Welcome to . . .

PAST TENSE - FUTURE-PERFECT

This book is about time. It is also about space. Specifically it is about South Dade High School in Homestead, Florida, U.S.A., from September, 1967 to June, 1968. It is about you and for you—the student who chose to buy a memory book of that unique year, that time now past.

In some ways it was a chaotic year. Our buildings went through the metamorphosis from the old, familiar rooms through the seeming results of an atomic attack to new, shining classrooms. For a short time South Dade became the exclusive domain of the seniors and the halls became orderly, the classrooms serious, and the students determined.

Through it all a small group of students planned, worked, cajoled, sweated a little, lied a little, and even connived a little to produce a yearbook that would evoke happy memories in that future time into which we are all going.

The staff of the yearbook of 1969 is going to miss Laurie's calm maturity and Gail's voice of authority when new pictures come in. They will remember Mike's grinning willingness and Bobby's working quietly by the window and glorying in the Palmetto victory as Caroline worked diligently in her Honors English desk beside him. Surely Melissa's gay, infectious laughter will echo in room 16 next year to liven up a dull sixth period. Wendy will be somewhere else, quietly minding her own business and getting things done, and Linda will be worrying about something other than creating decent copy out of chaos and laughing all the time. Betsy will be happily installed permanently at Gainesville and probably trying to break her sister's other records as she did in ad sales. Merry June will not be here to bend her pretty head over the money and count it and worry about it. Janet and Cathy, willing and smiling and bright, will be working on some other project. Who will ever replace Chris and his climbing, wandering, eavesdropping ways and his great pictures? Then there is Bob. Just Bob. Just irreplaceable.

All these students have all my gratitude, respect, admiration, and affection.

Here they are.

Thank them, please.

Jane Estaver

Darcy-

I can't really express it in words what these last three years have meant to me. You've made up a big party of my high school life and I'll be damned if we didn't have a lot of fun whatever we did! Remember that swimming party you had last year? It was great! Darcy- you really are a wonderful person and I don't know if I've ever told you or not but it has meant so much to me to be considered one of your friends. Remember all the little talks we had about D & R. Hell it doesn't look like they did any good! I can't thank you enough for being there when I needed to talk to someone and even more, being interested. It might sound silly, but I couldn't think more of you if you were my real sister. Usually when you write in an annual you have to tell a few lies, but I just want you to know I mean every word of it, even though you're the only girl I know with frozen potatoe chips.

Love

Nancy,

Well I'm going to start this, but I might as well write you a letter like you said. Then just one big enough. I'll try not to take up too much room.

I don't know where to begin exactly because there are so many things I could thank you for, and which we could reminisce (spelling?) about. But I'll never forget our Junior year. We did get into a little bit of trouble, & I didn't really mind that little practice vacation. Betty thinks it is funny now, but it sure wasn't at the time. I'll always remember all the times at the Drive-In, New Years Eve, slumber parties, and times when we just weren't doing anything, like in the afternoons after school when we would watch "Funny Flickers."

Nancy, I know that we have had misunderstandings, and disagreements over the past two years, but I'll always think of you not only as being a 44x sister, but like a regular sister, (which I have never had.) I won't ever be able to find the words that can thank you and your family enough for making me feel so much happier and easier. It was rough for me being down here without my family, but thanks to friends like yours it was easy. And I don't know what I would have done if you hadn't helped me out this year around Christmas time when I was "so nicely asked" to have Larry's house. I really have thought alot of the advice that you have given me many times. You seem to always be willing to listen to others problems, when you have some of your own. This is only of the outstanding qualities which you have.

Nancy, I sincerely wish you all the success and happiness in life, you truly deserve it. Whom ever the future "Mr." turns out to be I'm sure both of you will be happy. Any time you & your family are up our way please drop by, you always will come at our home, we'll always make room. Well I'm running short of space, so I'll close, (the letter.) May God be with you wherever you are, & lets keep in touch. Love always, Debbie 44X '61'
